

Total email security means looking...

beneath the surface.

Image files

JavaScript

Chain letters

Executable files

Unknown/Dangerous Attachments

Sound files

Unacceptable language

Virus hoax messages

Spam is just the tip of the iceberg.

When it comes to email content security, MailMarshal from NetIQ protects you from spam...and all other email system abuses and perilous dangers that can sink your ship. In many cases, only a small fraction of your available bandwidth is used for legitimate purposes. Non-business and risky content is as common and at least as damaging as spam to your network security. You need a content security management tool that controls all abuse...not just spam. Highly scalable, comprehensive, and simple to deploy and use, MailMarshal's total email content security does it all. Nobody does email security better. Nobody.

Visit www.netiq.com/go/marshal to learn more on how to protect your email content while improving productivity and reducing risk.

